I run the pre-school at the above address and recently invited in Alison Wright, who runs the Jo Jingles sessions in Sandbach. All the staff and parents were amazed at her outstanding abilities to involve and direct the children through a series of musical themes. The group of 22 youngsters thoroughly enjoyed participating in the fun activity and loved the experience.

It is very encouraging to observe high quality teaching of music and rhythm to the early years sector and the provision of Jo Jingles is extremely beneficial in developing their creativity, listening skills and physical mobility. As the pace of the activity is fast and stimulating children were continually enthralled and capable of following instruction.

We will certainly be asking Alison back to our pre-school and look forward to sharing further opportunities to enhance our curriculum in the future.
